

Free Verse Farm

2024 Field Crew Job Description

Free Verse Farm is an equal-opportunity employer that values inclusivity and diversity in Vermont's farm community. We are a family-run business offering a respectful work environment that encourages input and feedback from employees. As managers, we strive to establish strong lines of communication with all of our employees, as we deeply appreciate the ways that employees commit their time, energy, and physical bodies to our farm during the season. We take the physical and mental health of our employees very seriously and strive to teach and model healthy body mechanics and mindframes. We approach employee management with open-heartedness and a deep respect for each individual's needs, strengths, and interests.

Since 2012, we have grown medicinal, culinary, and tea herbs at our small farm, which has been located in Chelsea, Vermont since 2014. We cultivate approximately 2 acres of herbs and wildharvest from our open meadows, pastures, and woods. Using the herbs that we grow as our primary ingredients, we offer a line of herbal remedies, tea blends, herbal body care products, and culinary herbs. Our products are available in boutiques, groceries, farmstands, gift shops, restaurants, and cafés, primarily in the northeast. We also sell our products through Free Verse Farm Shop, which we opened in September 2020 in downtown Chelsea. At the Farm Shop we sell products in-store and online, offering pickup or shipping around the USA.

Field crew positions at Free Verse Farm provide the opportunity to experience first-hand what it takes to work on a small herb farm. Positions at our farm are not “apprenticeships,” though there is a lot of learning that happens on a daily basis, and we are very open to sharing all of our knowledge of growing, tending, and harvesting herbs. The work will be mostly in the field, focused on the cultivation of herbs, with employees spending the majority of their time planting, weeding, and harvesting crops, as well as drying and processing herbs. Field crew members may also assist with other farm activities, such as tending the herd of beef cattle that spend the summer on our pastures, helping with farm events, etc.

We are a growing business and there is opportunity for long-term employment and growth for the right candidates.

COVID-19 Pandemic: From the moment of its arrival, we have taken the pandemic very seriously, and like so many, it has meant profound changes for our everyday lives and the operation of our businesses. We are happy to answer any questions you might have about our practices.
